Inmans Primary School

Dear Parents/Carers,

As we come to the end of the second lockdown week I have a few things I would like to share.

Firstly a massive well done to all the children (and parents/carers) at home and in school for their lockdown learning. From this week, we will be sending Lockdown Learner certificates out for nominated pupils. This will be a weekly occurrence for every class.

Maths No Problem workbooks are available for pick up until Friday 22nd January. Please do call in any time after lunch. If you are unable to get to school due to shielding, then please call and a member of staff will post it.

Other work packs - please make any requests to the pod email or directly to the class teacher. Packs can be collected after lunch from the office. Again, if you are shielding we will post it to you or deliver.

From next week staff will be posting on Seesaw and Tapestry an initiative to 'Get Caught Reading.' Children can read online or a book (as we are aware that Oxford Reading Buddy has struggled a little with capacity) to a family member, to a toy or to a pet. Basically, get creative with reading sessions at home and take photographs. Please email photos directly to kking@inmansprimaryschool.co.uk and these will be uploaded to the website/Facebook.

Also attached to this email is a timetable of online meets for next week. These dates and times will be posted on Seesaw/Tapestry. We have varied them to enable siblings to access and also factor in different times of the day that may be preferable.

Finally, these are unprecedented times for us all. Staff at school are working very hard to meet all requests as well as managing their own family situation and home learning. Please bear with us and, as always, please be kind and respectful towards those trying to help.

Yours faithfully,

S Fellows
